WELTY IS IN THE RACE.

SOME OF THE POINTS IN FAVOR OF THE MAN FROM CANTON.

City Board of Elections Getting Ready For the County Democratic Primaries to Be Held Saturday.

[Columbus Dispatch.]

While the name of Hon. John C. Wely, of Canton, has been favorably mentioned from time to time, during the past month or so, in connection with the Democratic nomination for govornor, he has never authorized the use of his name until to-day. Word was received here this morning from Mr. Welty that he is in the race. Mr. Welty's location is acknowledged to be greatly in his favor, and besides he is a new man in politics so far as being a seeker after office is concerned, which is sometimes an element of strength rather than one of weakness. The only office he has ever held, aside from being a delegate to district, state and national conventions, was that of prosecuting attorney of Stark county, though for years past he has been prominent in the counsels of the party, and active as a worker and speak er. Mr. Welty is a lawyer of prominence in Canton, and is also largely interested in manufacturing. He has been remarkably successful as both manufacturer and lawyer, and is reputed to be section of the state. We may say there quite wealthy.

In the presidential campaign last fall Mr. Welty was on the stump from the time the campaign opened until. it closed, making speeches in behalf of Mr. Bryan and the cause of silver, of which he has always been a most ardent personally and by letter. advocate. He has the reputation of being one of the best public speakers in the state, whose eloquence charms and here a short time ago, and was seen 'by a representative of The Dispatch. At that time he would neither deny or affirm the report of his alleged candidacy for gubernatorial honors. Mr. Welty is a man of fine presence and commanding figure, who impresses one as a person of time, great force of character and a high order of ability. In manner and disposi ion he is very much after the style of eople, but one of them. He is just he sort of a man who will make friends wherever he goes, and is said to men be a splendid campaigner. Mr. Welty well known in this city, and has many friends here. With Mr. Thurman out of the way as a candidate the delegation from this county would as likely throw its support to him as any other andidate before the convention. Mr. Welty is looked upon as the candidate of the northern section of the state, and he will go into the convention with a following as formidable as any other candidate, and on account of his location, with McLean a candidate from the southpelieved that he will have a decided advantage over all other candidates, when the break from county favorites in the onvention takes place after one or two ballots have been had.

STARK'S CANDIDATE FOR GOV-

Stark County will go to the State Convention this year with a candidate for Governor and now that Mayor Rice has withdrawn from the gubernational race in the interest of harmony, Stark's 23 otes will be cast for Hon. John C. Welty. Stark County was organized in 1809. At that time there were less people in it han there are now in the smallest ward of Canton. To day she stands the sixth county in the State in population. Since ts organization she has furnished many thousand Democratic majorities to the Democratic State ticket but she has had but little recognition from Democratic State conventions. She has never yet been honored with a Democratic gubernatorial candidate.

Nor is this all. Stark County is located in northern Ohio and northern Ohio nas been greatly slighted by Democratic State conventions. The nominations for governer have generally gone to the southern part of the State. In the early part of the century this was very natural because the southern counties were organized first. But why should southern Ohio keep on furnishing the Democratic gubernatorial candidates when northern Ohio furnishes the Democratic majorities to elect them. Northern Ohio has not had a Democratic Gubernatorial candidate since 1859 when Judge Ranney of Cleveland was the nominee. And ought not this section of the State be ecognized at least once in 38 years?

Stark County will elect two represantatives and a senator to the Legislature. It is highly important that they should all be Democrats. The election of a Democratic U.S. senator may hinge on these three votes. In 1867 and again in 1889 the legislature was only Democratic in both branches by reason of Stark County sending three Democrats to Columbus.

The nomination of Mr. Welty for gov ernor would give us two representatives and a senator beyond all peradventure. This will give us a Democratic U.S. sentor and a Democratic senator from Ohio to succeed Hanna may give us the control of the United States senate.

Mr. Welty's views are well known or the silver question. For many years he has been an ardent advocate of silver Any citizen has that right, coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1. No one doubts his position on this question. He was a staunch supporter of Wm. J. the vanished bird of beautiful plumage, CHEAP EXCURSIONS WEEKLY on the Democratic legislative ticket in all the close counties, and especially in ever in a thunder storm I don't know." Wright Med. Co. Columbus Ohio for those in northern Ohio. Let the coun-Mr. Welty is much stronger than his party for he has scores and hundreds of friends throughout the State. All factional lines have been obliterated in Stark County and Mr. Welty and Mr. Welty and Mr. Welty is much stronger than his wants no dodging, nor fooling, such making plague, Itching Piles, will appreciate the plague, Itching Piles, will appreciate the plague, Itching Piles, will appreciate the immediate relief and permanent cure that comes through the use of Doan's calculational lines have been obliterated in Democratic party acts on Mr. Wana-Stark County and Mr. Welty will have the full support of all.

WITHDRAWAL OF MAYOR RICE.

CLEVELAND.

The withdrawal of Mayor Rice as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor is a great surprise to his legion of friends in Stark county and this was a growing feeling that Mr. Rice's to secure the nomination was excellent, and was improving, and hence the general regret expressed by friends,

It is due to those noble friends to say for Mr. Rice, that his motive in withwhose logic convinces. Mr. Welty was drawing is in the interest of party harmony. His earnest desire is to see Stark county take her old place in the Democratic column, and he is ready, as a good Democrat to yield his own aspirations at this in order to bring victory to the and all of our friends be animated by the ex-Governor Campbell, not above the same sentiments and see that men of

JOHN C. WELTY.

From the present outlook there will be quite a number of prominent and worthy gentlemen before the Democratic State convention for the nomination of its scientific name. dorsed by the Stark county delegation, which will number 23, thus ranging ers with all the indifference of an old Stark among the large counties. This, taken with the fact that the location is a good one, that Stark never had an opportunity to furnish Ohio a Democratic Governor, while the Republicans of Stark did; and also the feeling over the country that this is to be a Democratic year, we hope our friends will consider Stark and her claims favorably.

As to the candidate Stark will present, principle shall be chosen as our principal he is, in every way, worthy and capable. As a campaigner Mr. Welty would not be found wanting, and as Governor he would fill the requirements in every way. For years he has been known as one of our prudent and sagacious leaders, and as a candidate and Governor he would be the man to prove himself safe, sound and successful.

Before the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers became a powerful organiza-tion, before stationary engineers in some states required to pass examinations as to fitness for important positions, an engineer and fireman and man of all work was forced to bank his fire and stop his engine on account of pounding. He tinkered at it for a day or two, but the trouble was as bad as ever when he started her up. He tried again with the same result. Finally his employer was forced to call in a more competent authority and a sort of jack-of-all-trades was engaged. He poked around for half an hour, tightened a nut or two, eased some part that showed friction and said, "she'll go." She did go, much to the astonishment of the onlookers, and the Why have not the President and tinker was asked to make out his bill. It read as follows: Fixing engine ......

Willie's father is inclined to believe that his son is a striking and unusual example of hereditary influence and adaptation concerning which there has been much speculation, but about which we have little real knowledge. Dr. Gwin himself comes from a family of physicians. For three generations the Gwin family on the paternal side have been graduated physicians and surgeons. There have been several physicians in the family of Mrs. Gwin besides.

Dr Gwin first discovered his little boy's medical bent only about a year ago, when in a teasing way he repeated several long technical words and asked Willie to pro nounce them. To his surprise, the little fellow found no difficulty at all in doing so. Then his father told him what the long words meant and showed him where the bones were located in his own bod; Then he began to become interested in the work which his father was doing in the dissecting room. He seemed absolutely devoid of any childish terror at sight of dead body, but listened with interest when his father made long explanations. A short time ago Willie was taken be fore the Alumni association of the Rush Medical college in Chicago and put through a public "quiz" by one of the learned faculty. He answered all the questions promptly and accurately, much to the sur-prise of the big gathering of physicians.

The young orator of nearly half a century ago has become one of the most celebrated lawyers in the country, and at the approaching commencement exercises of Harvard university on June 30 his son. Joseph H. Choate, Jr., is to be the class day poet. Young Choate bears a strong personal resemblance to his father and evidently inherits from the latter many brilfiant mental characteristics. He has the same strong, manly features which make the great lawyer so conspicuous in a courtroom, and he has much of that genial urbanity which makes his father such a welcome guest wherever he goes.

When Joseph Choate, Sr., graduated, he delivered an original oration which it would be very interesting to read now,

JOSEPH H. CHOATE, JR. bunt it up he protested that it had been tost years ago. He was then urged to tell what it was like and indulge in a few reminiscences concerning his college days. But Mr. Choate is not much given to reminiscences. He seldom, if ever, talks about himself for publication, and he per sisted that his youthful effort was "just the usual thing, nothing out of the ordi-nary." Among his classmates were Phillips Brooks and several other men who have become well known. Joseph Choate, Jr., is expected by his friends to be as much a credit to the class of '97 as his father was to the class of '52. He has been and is very popular in college circles, having taken a great interest in athletics and in the secret fraternities. He is a brilliant student and has a high standing in the classroom. It is expected that after his graduation he will devote himself to the study of law, just as his father did.
